

The 155 Basic Books for an Abraham Lincoln Library

Provided by Daniel Weinberg, owner of the acclaimed Abraham Lincoln Bookshop in Chicago

The Lincoln collector, confronted with approximately 10,000 books and pamphlets relating to Abraham Lincoln, must wonder if he has tackled too vast a subject. No other historical personage, excepting Napoleon, has been studied and written about as much as our 16th President. And the list of Lincoln publications continues to grow at a steady pace.

We have always felt the collector should have an attainable goal; that is, a selective list of books which would offer what is considered to be the most authoritative and best written works on the subject. But the myriad of choices presents a profound problem for serious readers and collectors. Where does one begin assembling a basic Lincoln library? To address this problem, we offer the following list of 155 titles pertaining to Lincoln's life and times. [For those who ask, we chose 155 because that is what number the essential list came to.]

We don't expect everyone to agree with our choices, but this list does represent the consensus of leading authorities in the field of Lincoln scholarship. But we accept responsibility for the final choice.

This list has not been prepared in catalogue form. Therefore, we simply list each title, indicating the major editions for both scholarship and collecting. We list the first trade edition only if there are no major additions in subsequent (if any) editions. If there is a reprint with added material, or a limited edition of note, we will list the first edition after (a) and other significant editions after (b), (c), etc.

One can certainly collect well beyond this list, for there are many significant and collectible printed works that would add to any Lincoln library. These specialized categories (e.g. the assassination, his youth or legal practice, bibliographies, campaign literature, etc.) each would have their own additional "essential" titles.

The Essential Lincoln Bookshelf

1. THE ABRAHAM LINCOLN QUARTERLY.

Volume I, March 1940, through Volume VIII, December 1952. 52 issues; wraps.

A complete run of this informative publication from the Abraham Lincoln Association. Superb essays, interpretive in nature; mostly original articles by the major Lincoln contributors --- Randall, Thomas, Angle, Pratt, et al. A Lincoln-related frontispiece was a regular feature.

2. Angle, Paul M.

HERE I HAVE LIVED: A HISTORY OF LINCOLN'S SPRINGFIELD, 1821 – 1865.

Springfield: 1935. 313p., ft., illus., fold. map. [B] Chicago and New Salem: 1971. New Introduction by the author.

A history of Springfield to the end of the Civil War, emphasizing Lincoln's connections with the city, by the one-time Librarian of the Illinois State Historical Society.

3. , Paul, M., ed.

CREATED EQUAL? THE COMPLETE LINCOLN-DOUGLAS DEBATES OF 1858

Chicago: 1958. 422p., ft., ports., map eps.

This valuable source contains over eighty letters written between 1903 and 1926 in which Robert Todd Lincoln commented about his father's life.

4. Angle, Paul M., with Case, Richard G., eds.

A PORTRAIT OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN IN LETTERS BY HIS OLDEST SON.

Chicago: 1968. 92p., ft.

This valuable source contains over eighty letters written between 1903 and 1926 in which Robert Todd Lincoln commented about his father's life.

5. Baber, Adin.

THE DESTINED MOTHER OF A PRESIDENT.

Kansas, IL: 1963. 174p., tipped in ft.

A genealogical study of the Hanks family.

6. Baker, Jean.

MARY TODD LINCOLN: A BIOGRAPHY.

New York: 1987. 429p., illus.

The standard portrait of Mary Lincoln.

7. Ballard, Colin R.

THE MILITARY GENIUS OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

[A] New York: 1926. 246p., ft., illus. [B] Cleveland and New York: 1952. New Preface by Fletcher Pratt.

Intended as a rebuttal to the notion that Lincoln was a bumbling armchair general who needlessly interfered with his field commanders, Ballard's view, that Lincoln was an excellent though unconventional strategist and the first modern commander in chief, has become widely accepted.

8. Baringer, William E.

A HOUSE DIVIDING: LINCOLN AS PRESIDENT ELECT.

Springfield: 1945. 356p., ft.

An excellent study of Lincoln during the secession winter of 1860-61.

9. Baringer, William E.

LINCOLN'S RISE TO POWER.

Boston: 1937. 373p., ft., illus.

A fine account of Lincoln's strategy that, within two years, turned him from a defeated senatorial candidate into the successful Republican candidate for President.

10. Baringer, William E.

LINCOLN'S VANDALIA: A PIONEER PORTRAIT.

New Brunswick: 1949. 141p., illus.

Lincoln passed his freshman course in politics in this lively frontier capital. Here started his rivalry with Stephen A. Douglas, as well as the friendships that would one day carry him to the White House.

11. Barton, William E.

THE LINEAGE OF LINCOLN.

Indianapolis: 1929. 419p., illus.

Detailed genealogical research on the Lincoln and Hanks families.

12. Barton, William E.

PATERNITY OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN: WAS HE THE SON OF THOMAS LINCOLN?

New York: 1920. 414p.

An essay on the chastity of Nancy Hanks. When many popular scholars developed what Barton felt were unsatisfactory refutations of the rumors, he took on the subject himself.

13. Bates, David H.

LINCOLN IN THE TELEGRAPH OFFICE.

New York: 1907. 432p., ft.

Personal recollections and dispatches of a War Department telegraph office manager and a cipher operator, 1861-1866.

14. Beale, Howard K., ed.

THE DIARY OF EDWARD BATES, 1859 – 1866.

Washington: 1933. 685p.

The diary of Lincoln's Attorney General, a southern moderate and unionist. documents life and politics in St. Louis during the secession crisis, Washington in wartime, legal and administrative issues, and his evaluation of Lincoln.

15. Bernard, Kenneth A.

LINCOLN AND THE MUSIC OF THE CIVIL WAR.

Caldwell, ID: 1966. 333p., ft., illus.

Excellent work on the importance of patriotic music during the Civil War.

16. Beveridge, Albert J.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN, 1809-1858.

Boston: 1928. 2 vols. (607p.; 741), fts.

One of the classic Lincoln biographies. Though older, still one of the finest studies on Lincoln's early life. Beveridge died before finishing.

17. Boritt, Gabor S.

LINCOLN AND THE ECONOMICS OF THE AMERICAN DREAM.

Memphis: 1978. 420p., illus.

Lincoln's economic concerns and observations long preceded the political issues of slavery and secession. These ideas helped him not only face his political trials but create a clearer vision of the American Dream.

18. Boritt, Gabor S., ed.

THE HISTORIAN'S LINCOLN: PSEUDOHISTORY, PSYCHOHISTORY, AND HISTORY.

Urbana: 1988. 423p., illus., ports.; THE HISTORIAN'S LINCOLN: REBUTTALS, WHAT THE UNIVERSITY PRESS WOULD NOT PRINT. Gettysburg: 1988. Wraps, 43p., erratum sheet.

Numerous writers, among them Current, Fehrenbacher, McPherson and Oates, defend and denounce various images of Lincoln and views of his biographers, focusing on the fundamental issue of whether Lincoln's ultimate commitment was to union or liberty.

19. Borreson, Ralph.

WHEN LINCOLN DIED.

New York: 1965. 231p., ft., illus.

The assassination and aftermath as told in quoted writings by eyewitnesses and observations of the people of the day. Richly illustrated; elegantly edited.

20. Braden, Waldo W.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN, PUBLIC SPEAKER.

Baton Rouge: 1988. 119p.

An analysis of Lincoln's rhetorical style argues persuasively that he was a gifted, underrated orator with a style based on simplicity, common sense and good moral character. Excellent study of Lincoln's development as a campaigner and speaker.

21. Braden, Waldo W., ed.

BUILDING THE MYTH: SELECTED SPEECHES MEMORIALIZING ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Urbana and Chicago: 1990. 259p.

A compilation of 23 speeches that illuminate the rhetorical dimension of the Lincoln myth; includes orations by Emerson, T. Roosevelt, Cuomo, Taft, Frederick Douglass, Garfield, and Booker T. Washington.

22. Brooks, Noah.

WASHINGTON IN LINCOLN'S TIME.

[A] New York: 1895. 328p. [B] MR. LINCOLN'S WASHINGTON: THE CIVIL WAR DISPATCHES OF NOAH BROOKS. Staudenraus, P.J., ed. South Brunswick, NJ: 1967. 481p

Excellent insights on the time and place.

23. (Browning, Orville H.) Pease, Theodore, & Randall, James, ed.

THE DIARY OF ORVILLE HICKMAN BROWNING: 1850-1881.

Springfield: 1925. 2 volumes (700p.; 698p)

Thirty-one years in the life of this Illinois senator, cabinet member, and political associate and personal friend of Lincoln.

24. Bruce, Robert.

LINCOLN AND THE TOOLS OF WAR.

Indianapolis and New York: 1956. 368p., ft., illus.

A fine treatment of the Union development of technology.

25. Bryan, George S.

THE GREAT AMERICAN MYTH.

[A] New York: 1940. 436p., illus. [B] Chicago: 1990. 2nd ed., with new Introduction by William Hanchett.

The classic interpretation of Lincoln's assassination as a simple conspiracy, carried out by John Wilkes Booth acting on his own and dying in the Garret barn. Noted authority William Hanchett provides an insightful essay, viewing the assassination through the eyes of Lincoln's biographers since 1865.

26. Bunker, Gary L.

FROM RAIL-SPLITTER TO ICON: LINCOLN'S IMAGE IN ILLUSTRATED PERIODICALS, 1860-1865.

Kent & London: 2001. 387p., illus.

Editorial, news, poetic, and satirical content from contemporary periodicals is artfully woven into the narrative of a copiously illustrated history of the development of Lincoln's public profile.

27. Burlingame, Michael, ed.

AN ORAL HISTORY OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN: JOHN G. NICOLAY'S INTERVIEWS AND ESSAYS.

Carbondale: 1996. 167p.

With fellow secretary John Hay, Nicolay spent the years from 1872 to 1890 writing a monumental ten-volume biography of Lincoln. In preparation for this task, Nicolay interviewed men who had known Lincoln both during his years in Springfield and when he became President; among them Orville H. Browning, John Todd Stuart, Stephen T. Logan, Ward H. Lamon, James Speed, and Robert Todd Lincoln. These 39 interviews are supplemented by two previously unpublished essays by Nicolay.

28. Burlingame, Michael, and Ettliger, John R. Turner, eds.

INSIDE LINCOLN'S WHITE HOUSE: THE COMPLETE CIVIL WAR DIARY OF JOHN HAY.

Carbondale: 1997. 393p.

Justly deemed the most intimate record we will ever have of Abraham Lincoln in the White House, this is, according to the editors "one of the richest deposits of high-grade ore for the smelters of Lincoln biographers and Civil War historians." This authoritative and unedited edition of Lincoln's secretary's finely written diary includes a body of notes providing a critical apparatus to the diary, identifying historical events and persons.

29. Carman, Harry J., & Luthin, Reinhard, H

LINCOLN AND THE PATRONAGE.

New York: 1943. 375p., ft., illus.

The standard work on an important aspect of Lincoln's career.

30. Carpenter, Francis B.

SIX MONTHS AT THE WHITE HOUSE WITH ABRAHAM LINCOLN. THE STORY OF A PICTURE.

New York: 1866. 359p

The valuable recollections by the painter of the famous scene of Lincoln and his cabinet considering the Emancipation Proclamation.

31. Carwardine, Richard J.

LINCOLN.

[A] London: 2003. 352p. [B] LINCOLN: A LIFE OF PURPOSE AND POWER. New York: 2006. 1st American ed., 394p., illus.

From across the Atlantic comes a political biography like no other, examining Lincoln both as a rising politician and as president, and focusing on the sources of his authority and achievement, both moral and pragmatic. It reveals his political talents and serious moral purpose but shows, too, how in pursuing office he depended on public opinion and the machinery of party. As war-leader, he saw the limits as well as the possibilities of power, and looked beyond the government to other engines of support.

32. Chamlee, Roy Z.

LINCOLN'S ASSASSINS: A COMPLETE ACCOUNT OF THEIR CAPTURE, TRIAL, AND PUNISHMENT.

Jefferson, NC: 1990. 622p., illus., maps.

Extensively researched work, digging deep into War Department files, pretrial and trial testimony, newspaper accounts and manuscripts.

33. Charnwood, Lord (G.R.B.)

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

[A] London: 1916. 479p., ft., fold. map. [B] Lanham, MD: 1996. 347p. Introduction by Peter W. Schramm.

A balanced and thorough one-volume biography, by the English nobleman with the abiding respect for Lincoln's statesmanship. Still a fine read and good history.

34. Cox, LaWanda.

LINCOLN AND BLACK FREEDOM: A STUDY IN PRESIDENTIAL LEADERSHIP.

Columbia: 1981. 254p.

This remains the latest and best scholarship on Lincoln's personal and political views on race; she concludes that Lincoln and Republican radicals "shared an identity of purpose, if not of rhetoric and tactic, in seeking basic rights, citizenship, and political participation for former slaves."

35. Cuomo, Mario M., and Holzer, Harold, eds

LINCOLN ON DEMOCRACY.

New York: 1990. 416p., ft., illus.

One of the greatest writers among American presidents, here, collected for the first time, are Abraham Lincoln's memorable expressions on those subjects closest to his political soul: equality, freedom, and self-determination. Includes essays by Gabor S. Boritt, James M. McPherson, Mark E. Neely, Jr., and others.

36. Current, Richard N.

THE LINCOLN NOBODY KNOWS.

New York: 1958. 314p.

A collection of essays on controversial episodes from each period of Lincoln's life, by one of his abler biographers.

37. Dodge, Daniel K.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN: MASTER OF WORDS.

New York: 1924. 178p

An examination of Lincoln's style, with examples of his best work.

38. Donald, David H.

LINCOLN.

New York: 1996. 714p., illus., maps.

"A grand work --- the Lincoln biography for this generation." --- Arthur Schlesinger, Jr.

39. Donald, David.

LINCOLN RECONSIDERED: ESSAYS ON THE CIVIL WAR ERA.

[A] New York: 1956. 200p. [B] Revised ed. New York: 2001. 208p.

The author addresses basic issues relating to Lincoln and the Civil War.

40. Donald, David H.

LINCOLN'S HERNDON.

New York: 1948. 392p., illus.

A fine biography of Lincoln's law partner, biographer, and friend.

41. Donald, David Herbert.

"WE ARE LINCOLN MEN".

New York: 2003. 288p., illus.

Friendships never came easy for a man as private and as mysterious as Abraham Lincoln. This highly original book by a great historian and two-time winner of the Pulitzer Prize offers an enlightening way of looking at Lincoln by observing how he dealt with his friends and close associates, revealing much about how he grew in his mastery of managing other men.

42. Donald, David Herbert, ed.

INSIDE LINCOLN'S CABINET: THE CIVIL WAR DIARIES OF SALMON P. CHASE.

New York: 1954. 342p., ft.

An intimate record and fine resource on the inner workings of Lincoln's administration by his Treasury Secretary.

43. Dorris, Jonathan.

PARDON AND AMNESTY UNDER LINCOLN AND JOHNSON: THE RESTORATION OF THE CONFEDERATES...1861-1898.

Chapel Hill: 1953. 459p.

The best work on the subject; well written and thoroughly researched.

44. Duff, John J.

A. LINCOLN, PRAIRIE LAWYER.

New York: 1960. 443p., ft., illus.

A fine anecdotal account of Lincoln's circuit practice from 1837-1861. [The best book on Lincoln's entire legal career is still to come.]

45. Farber, Daniel.

LINCOLN'S CONSTITUTION.

Chicago & London: 2003. 240p.

The Civil War brought pressure on the Constitution that had never seen before or since. Did the South have the right to secede? What is the nature of the Union, and what are the limits of states' rights? Faber evaluates Lincoln's legal legacy comprehensively, leading the reader to understand the constitutional problems that arose during Lincoln's term, what arguments he made in defense of his actions, and how his words and deeds fit into the context of the times.

46. Fehrenbacher, Don E.

LINCOLN IN TEXT AND CONTEXT: COLLECTED ESSAYS.

Palo Alto: 1987. 363p.

A wide-ranging and insightful collection, from this admired Lincoln scholar.

47. Fehrenbacher, Don E.

PRELUDE TO GREATNESS: LINCOLN IN THE 1850'S.

Stanford: 1962. 205p.

Penetrating essays on Lincoln's rise to national prominence.

48. Frank, John P.

LINCOLN AS A LAWYER.

Urbana: 190p. [B] Chicago: 1991. 2nd ed., 208p., new Introduction by Cullom Davis.

A fine study by a former professor at the Yale University law school. Lincoln spent 25 years as a lawyer and no one can truly understand him as a public figure without an understanding these years.

49. Franklin, John Hope.

THE EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION.

New York: 1963. 181p., ft., illus., facsim.

A great work by a great historian, describing the evolution of the document in Lincoln's mind and its impact on the course of the war at home and abroad.

50. Freedman, Russell.

LINCOLN: A PHOTOBIOGRAPHY.

New York: 1987. 150p., illus.

A wonderful, Newberry Award-winning illustrated biography for young readers at the fourth grade level.

51. Gary, Ralph.

FOLLOWING IN LINCOLN'S FOOTSTEPS: A COMPLETE ANNOTATED REFERENCE TO HUNDREDS OF HISTORICAL SITES VISITED BY ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

New York: 2001. 480p., map.

From Abraham Lincoln's law offices to his White House office and from his Springfield address to the spot where he first heard the news of Robert E. Lee's surrender, this guidebook includes detailed maps and diagrams of the cities and buildings that Lincoln called home.

52. Goff, John S.

ROBERT TODD LINCOLN.

Norman: 1969. 268p., illus.

A sympathetic portrayal.

53. Goodwin, Doris Kearns.

TEAM OF RIVALS: THE POLITICAL GENIUS OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

New York: 2005. 916p., illus.

A skillful, multiple biography, centered on Lincoln's ability to create a cabinet out of gifted, divergent personalities, and how Lincoln's personality shaped the most significant presidency in the nation's history.

54. Guelzo, Allen C.

LINCOLN'S EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION: THE END OF SLAVERY IN AMERICA.

New York: 2004. 332p., illus.

No single official paper in American history changed the lives of so many Americans as the Emancipation Proclamation. But no American document has been held up to greater suspicion. One of the nation's foremost Lincoln scholars examines Lincoln's purposes in planning and issuing the Proclamation and identifies the sources, language, sequence, readership, and impact of the Proclamation's creation.

55. Hanchett, William.

THE LINCOLN MURDER CONSPIRACIES.

Champaign: 1983. 304p., illus.

A thoughtful analysis of the assassination and of the various theories put forth to explain the murder. "The best interpretation of the assassination I have ever seen in print." - Mark E. Neely, Jr.

56. Harper, Robert S.

LINCOLN AND THE PRESS.

New York: 1951. 418p.

A study commencing in 1836 when Lincoln's name first appeared in print, with emphasis on Civil War civilian attitudes and editorial opinion.

57. Harris, William C.

WITH CHARITY FOR ALL: LINCOLN AND THE RESTORATION OF THE UNION.

Lexington: 1997. 336p., illus.

In this comprehensive examination Harris maintains that Lincoln held a relatively conservative vision of the restoration process, challenges the view that Lincoln modified his policy late in the war to accommodate Radical Republican demands, examines the reasoning and ideology that lay behind Lincoln's policies, and evaluates Lincoln's successes and failures in bringing restoration efforts to closure.

58. Hendrick, Burton J.

LINCOLN'S WAR CABINET

Boston: 1946. 482p., ft., illus.

Portrays each of the members of the Cabinet and the part they played in the various crises of the administration.

59. Herndon, William H., & Weik, Jesse W.

HERNDON'S LINCOLN: THE TRUE STORY OF A GREAT LIFE; THE HISTORY AND PERSONAL RECOLLECTIONS OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

[A] Chicago: 1889. 3 volumes, fts., plates. [B] ABRAHAM LINCOLN: THE TRUE STORY OF A GREAT LIFE. New York: 1892. 2 vols. (331p.; 348p.). [C] HERNDON'S LIFE OF LINCOLN. New York: 1930. 1 vol., ed. with an Introduction by Paul Angle. 511p.

Herndon was Lincoln's law partner and this remains an essential source for the lawyer Lincoln's "growth" years, telling much of his personal habits and tastes from 1837 to 1860. The 1892 edition contains material not found in the original, including much on the 1858 Illinois campaign and an informative appendix.

60. Hertz, Emmanuel.

THE HIDDEN LINCOLN: FROM THE LETTERS AND PAPERS OF WILLIAM H. HERNDON.

New York: 1938. 461p., ft., illus.

Includes the most important source materials on which Herndon's biography of Lincoln was based. Also see Doug Wilson's LINCOLN'S INFORMANTS below.

61. Hertz, Emmanuel.

LINCOLN TALKS: A BIOGRAPHY IN ANECDOTE.

New York: 1939. 698p., ft.

A useful, reliable, and readable collection of stories organized by topic.

62. Hesseltine, William B.

LINCOLN AND THE WAR GOVERNORS.

New York: 1948. 405p

An authoritative study of Lincoln's relationship with state executives.

63. Holzer, Harold.

LINCOLN AT COOPER UNION: THE SPEECH THAT MADE ABRAHAM LINCOLN PRESIDENT

New York: 2004. 338p., illus.

Delivered in New York in February 1860, Abraham Lincoln's Cooper Union speech, which Lincoln later said made him President, dispelled doubts about his suitability for that office. Holzer presents Lincoln's speech as a masterly combination of scholarship, a brief for equality and democracy, a ringing warning to would-be secessionists, and a rallying cry for the country and the Republican Party.

64. Holzer, Harold, ed.

DEAR MR. LINCOLN: LETTERS TO THE PRESIDENT.

Reading, MA: 1993. 380p., ft., illus., illus. eps.

As President, Abraham Lincoln received 200-300 pieces of mail every day. This compilation of examples of such correspondence express the concerns, aspirations, grievances, and obsessions --- the pulse of the nation during the Civil War period. They also testify to the reservoir of respect, disdain, affection, and abhorrence that different Americans felt for their president.

65. Holzer, Harold, ed.

LINCOLN AS I KNEW HIM: GOSSIP, TRIBUTES, AND REVELATIONS FROM HIS BEST FRIENDS AND WORST ENEMIES.

Chapel Hill: 1999. 352p.

Noted Lincoln scholar Harold Holzer sifted through letters, diary entries, books, and speeches written by those, famous and unknown, who actually met Lincoln, and offers up an intimate look at a man who was a terrible dresser, loved raunchy stories, and let his kids run all over him. We learn this and more about an extraordinary man who made an impression on everyone who met him.

66. Holzer, Harold; Boritt, Gabor S.; & Neely, Mark E

THE LINCOLN IMAGE: ABRAHAM LINCOLN AND THE POPULAR PRINT.

New York: 1984. 250p., illus.

Focusing on prints produced in Lincoln's lifetime and in the iconographically important months immediately following his death, three well-known Lincoln experts document the efforts of popular printmakers to make Lincoln's face recognizable in an era which lacked modern media exposure methods such as newspaper photos, etc.

67. Hyman, Harold M.

A MORE PERFECT UNION: THE IMPACT OF CIVIL WAR AND RECONSTRUCTION ON THE CONSTITUTION

New York: 1973. 562p.

An outstanding survey of the legal aspects of the conflict, and how Lincoln, who believed the Constitution sacred, used it to the upper limits to prosecute the war.

68. Jaffa, Harry V.

CRISIS OF THE HOUSE DIVIDED: AN INTERPRETATION OF THE ISSUES IN THE LINCOLN-DOUGLAS DEBATES.

Garden City, NY: 1959. 451p

Perhaps the best book written on the debates.

69. Jaffa, Harry V.

A NEW BIRTH OF FREEDOM: ABRAHAM LINCOLN AND THE COMING OF THE CIVIL WAR

Lanham, MD: 2000. 549p.

The culmination of nearly a half-century of study and reflection by one of the foremost scholars of American history and politics. Jaffa skillfully illuminates Lincoln's understanding of the concepts of self-government, equality, and statesmanship, and he offers penetrating insights into Lincoln's refutation of the political philosophy and constitutional interpretations of the southern secessionists.

70. Johannsen, Robert W.

LINCOLN, THE SOUTH, AND SLAVERY: THE POLITICAL DIMENSION

Baton Rouge and London: 1991. 144p.

An astute analytical study which traces the political dimension of Lincoln's antislavery stance as it evolved from the passage of the Kansas-Nebraska Act in 1854 to his election as President in 1860, showing Lincoln becoming increasingly antislavery and anti-Southern in response to the demands of politics.

71. Kauffman, Michael W.

AMERICAN BRUTUS: JOHN WILKES BOOTH AND THE LINCOLN CONSPIRACIES.

New York: 2004. 508p., illus

The definitive biography of the assassin.

72. Keckley, Elizabeth.

BEHIND THE SCENES: OR, THIRTY YEARS A SLAVE, AND FOUR YEARS IN THE WHITE HOUSE.

New York: 1868. 371p., ft.

A classic reminiscence by Mrs. Lincoln's dressmaker.

73. Kincaid, Robert L.

JOSHUA FRY SPEED: LINCOLN'S MOST INTIMATE FRIEND.

Harrrogate, TN: 1943. 250 copies, 70p., illus.

A fine biography, including the fascinating letters written by Lincoln to his closest friend.

74. Kunhardt, Dorothy Meserve, and Kunhardt, Philip B., Jr

TWENTY DAYS.

New York: 312p., illus.

This beautiful book, containing more than 300 illustrations, tells the moving story of twenty fateful days in America's history: from the night of April 14, 1865, when Abraham Lincoln was shot, to the afternoon of his burial in Springfield.

75. Leech, Margaret.

REVILLE IN WASHINGTON, 1860-1865.

New York: 1941. 438p., illus.

The Pulitzer Prize-winning work of history, written like a novel, tells the story of the capital during the Civil War.

[A] New York: 1988. 904p., illus. [B] THE ILLUSTRATED BATTLE CRY OF FREEDOM: THE CIVIL WAR ERA. 2003. Revised ed., 786p., illus., maps.

Quite simply superb, and easily the best one volume work on the Civil War. A Pulitzer Prize-winner.

85. Mellon, James, ed.

THE FACE OF LINCOLN.

New York: 1979. 201p., illus.

A wonderful collection of portrait photographs, all of high quality, augmented by Lincoln's own writings and those of men who knew him.

86. Miller, William Lee.

LINCOLN'S VIRTUES: AN ETHICAL BIOGRAPHY.

New York: 2002. 515p., ft.

Lincoln, Miller says, was a great man who was also a good man. It is the central thrust of this "ethical biography" to reveal how he became both, to trace his moral and intellectual development in the context of his times and in confrontation with the leading issues of the day - most notably, of course, that of slavery.

87. Mitgang, Herbert, ed.

LINCOLN'S MELANCHOLY: HOW DEPRESSION CHALLENGED A PRESIDENT AND FUELED HIS GREATNESS.

Boston and New York: 2005. 350p.

Drawing on years of research, Shenk reveals how Lincoln harnessed his depression to fuel his astonishing success, finding the solace and tactics he needed to deal with the nation's worst crisis in the "coping strategies" he had developed over a lifetime of persevering through depressive episodes and personal tragedies.

119. Silver, David M.

LINCOLN'S SUPREME COURT.

Urbana: 1856. 272p. ft.

An historical rather than a legalistic study, involving all aspects of this wartime court.

120. Simon, Paul.

LINCOLN'S PREPARATION FOR GREATNESS: THE ILLINOIS LEGISLATIVE YEARS.

Norman: 1965. 335p., illus.

An extraordinarily fine study of these formative political years for Lincoln.

121. Steers, Edward, Jr.

ON THE MOON: THE ASSASSINATION OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Lexington: 2001. 360p., illus

The book on the assassination presents the most up-to-date research and makes clear the important role of Mudd and members of the Confederate Secret Service in Booth's crime and escape, as Steers finally puts to rest the many myths and popular misconceptions and accurately depicts what really happened.

122. Strozier, Charles B.

[A] LINCOLN'S QUEST FOR UNION: PUBLIC AND PRIVATE MEANINGS.

New York: 1982. 271p. [B] LINCOLN'S QUEST FOR UNION: A PSYCHOLOGICAL PORTRAIT.

Philadelphia: 2001. Revised edition, 298p., illus.

This excellent psychohistory traces Lincoln development from childhood and youth to marriage and maturity. Through analysis of the recently published interviews conducted by Lincoln's longtime law partner William Herndon, the revised edition examines the curious duality that Lincoln felt about his mother's illegitimacy, the rivalry between father and son, the importance of Ann Rutledge, and the failures of his early manhood.

123. Tarbell, Ida.

IN THE FOOTSTEPS OF THE LINCOLNS.

New York: 1924. 418p., ft., illus.

One of the great Lincoln scholars traces Lincoln's family from their 1617 migration to Hingham, Mass. down to his 1861 inauguration. Tarbell finds Lincoln's success directly related to his family traditions.

COME RETRIBUTION: THE CONFEDERATE SECRET SERVICE AND THE ASSASSINATION OF LINCOLN.

Jackson: 1988. 510p., illus., maps.

A major work, with startling revelations of how both John Wilkes Booth and the Confederate Secret Service were involved in the assassination of Abraham Lincoln.

130. Trefousse, Hans L.

“FIRST AMONG EQUALS”: ABRAHAM LINCOLN’S REPUTATION DURING HIS ADMINISTRATION.

New York: 2005. 199p

In myth and memory, Lincoln is always the Great Emancipator and savior of the Union, second in stature only to George Washington. But was he always so exalted? This fascinating book is a masterful portrait of Lincoln the President in the eyes of his fellow Americans, showing that the majority of the Northern people appreciated Lincoln and his leadership from the beginning.

131. Turner, Justin G and Linda Levitt, eds.

MARY TODD LINCOLN: HER LIFE AND LETTERS.

New York: 1972. 750p., ft., illus.

137. White, Ronald C., Jr.

THE ELOQUENT PRESIDENT: A PORTRAIT OF LINCOLN THROUGH HIS WORDS.

New York: 2005. 348p., illus.

Examining Abraham Lincoln's astonishing oratory and explores his growth as a leader, a communicator, and a man of deepening spiritual conviction, White masterfully tracks the evolution of Lincoln's rhetoric. Through the speeches and what surrounded them --- the great battles and political crises, the president's private anguish and despair, the impact of his words on the public, the press, and the nation at war --- we see the full sweep and meaning of the Lincoln presidency.

138. White, Ronald C., Jr.

LINCOLN'S GREATEST SPEECH: THE SECOND INAUGURAL.

New York: 2002. 254p., illus.

"Lincoln thought the Second Inaugural to be his greatest speech --- even more profound and powerful than the Gettysburg address. Ronald C. White's remarkable analysis ... will convince readers that Lincoln was right. In lucid prose, White... places the speech in a broad historical and theological context." --- James M. McPherson.

139. Williams, Kenneth P.

LINCOLN FINDS A GENERAL: A MILITARY STUDY OF THE CIVIL WAR.

New York: 1949-59. 5 volumes, fts., plates, maps, map eps.

The unfinished jewel in the crown of a fine historian, which remains a classic rendition of Lincoln's problems in finding a general to lead the Federal armies and successfully prosecute the war.

140. Williams, T. Harry.

LINCOLN AND THE RADICALS.

1941. 413p., illus.

The vivid and dramatic story of the bitter struggle between Lincoln and the radicals in his own party to control the conduct of the war.

141. Williams, T. Harry.

LINCOLN AND HIS GENERALS.

New York: 1952. 363p., illus., map

An excellent examination of Lincoln as Commander-in-Chief and his relationships with his field commanders.

142. Wills, Garry.

LINCOLN AT GETTYSBURG: THE WORDS THAT REMADE AMERICA.

New York: 1992. 317p., illus.

Lincoln was asked to memorialize the grisly battle at Gettysburg. Instead, he gave the whole nation "a new birth of freedom". This brilliant Pulitzer Prize-winning account of the making of Lincoln's masterpiece restores the Gettysburg Address, reminding us how daring was this act of intellectual revolution.

143. Wilson, Douglas L.

HONOR'S VOICE: THE TRANSFORMATION OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

New York: 1998. 448p., illus.

Douglas L. Wilson lets us see how Abraham Lincoln transformed himself in the 1830s and 1840s from a kind of country bumpkin to a sophisticated political figure who would become our greatest president. A landmark piece of Lincolniana and historiography.

144. Wilson, Douglas.

LINCOLN BEFORE WASHINGTON: NEW PERSPECTIVES ON THE ILLINOIS YEARS

Urbana: 1997. 190p.

These provocative essays are an effort, in the light of new evidence and perspectives, to test the validity of some long-standing assumptions about certain Lincoln sources and to reopen some presumably settled questions about his early life.

145. Wilson, Douglas J., and Davis, Rodney, eds.

HERNDON'S INFORMANTS: LETTERS, INTERVIEWS, AND STATEMENTS ABOUT ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Urbana: 1997. 600p.

An invaluable, basic source that must be placed next to Herndon's own work - for here is corroboration of his general reliability. There are over 600 primary sources covering Lincoln's pre-political and pre-legal career. Included are annotations, a registry of the informants, and a detailed topic index. Also see Emanuel Hertz's THE HIDDEN LINCOLN above.

146. Wilson, Edmund.

PATRIOTIC GORE. STUDIES IN THE LITERATURE OF THE AMERICAN CIVIL WAR

New York: 1962. 816p.

A distinguished critic examines the writings and speeches of the time in order to understand the meaning of the Civil War. Possibly the most influential piece of Civil War criticism, with an intriguing chapter on Lincoln.
